

Dear children,

I am Will, the Water Warrior. You may have heard of me, I am visiting schools in Somerset.

Now I am visiting your school, and you are probably wondering what being a Water Warrior is. So, I thought I would tell you a little bit about it.

Being a Water Warrior is an important job at school and at home. The most important mission of a Water Warrior is to make sure that drinking water is part of our everyday life.

Drinking water will help you to keep your energy levels up and to use all your brain power!

You can lead by example and spread this message to your family and friends.

I can give you hints and tips to share on your journey to becoming a Water Warrior.

I hope you enjoy what I have to share with you, and I am so excited for you to join my Water Warrior mission.

From me to you, have a splashing day.
